EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The recent floods in Bengaluru did not spare anyone. Unlike the visuals of the past, wherein only the poor and vulnerable were shown in flood-ravaged areas, this time mansions with BMWs, Bentleys on the porch were also inundated. Most people would call this a natural disaster. That's not correct.

Natural phenomena like earthquakes, floods, cyclones and droughts are incorrectly referred to as natural disasters; they are, actually, natural hazards. When an earthquake or a cloud burst hits an uninhabited region, it's not a disaster, but a hazard. But when natural hazards occur where people reside, that is when they can potentially become a disaster. While this may seem like semantics to some, factors like affected population, loss to life and property and all-round misery decide if this hazard is a disaster or not.

There are two key aspects of coping with a natural hazard: reducing existing risks and avoiding creating new ones. We have failed at both. So, it can be said that hazards are natural, disasters are man-made.

We must create structures that can delay, reduce flooding, which means restoring/increasing carrying capacities of storm-drainage system, clearing the way for lost natural drains (even if it means demolitions), revitalising lakes, removing unauthorised constructions along river banks and over flood plains.

India is going to bear the brunt of climate change. We are witnesses to this fact every year. The focus should be now on coping and not making things worse. It's time we realise that citizens need to be more responsible and get involved in this fight against urban hazards. Unless you fancy a ride on your city's roads on an NDRF boat every year.

The village where almost everyone is a YouTuber

Tulsi: A small village in Chhattisgarh State named Tulsi, has become as 'YouTube Village" because a third of its population makes videos for a living.

Online video content is more popular than ever, and it's no wonder that millions of people around the world are working hard trying to build careers as video creators. But nowhere is the concentration of would-be YouTubers than in Tulsi village, where over a third of the 3,000-strong local population is actively making videos and posting them on YouTube for profit. Many of these creators used to be farmers, but after hearing that some of their peers had doubled, even tripled their income making YouTube videos, they decided that it was time for a career change.

The story of the YouTube Village began with two friends, Gyanendra Shukla and Jai Verma, who left their jobs as network engineer and teacher, respectively, to make video content. Before long they started earning a pretty penny from their new endeavor, and word of their success spread throughout the village, inspiring others to follow in their footsteps.

This snake can be mistaken for an earthworm

Bridgetown: Spotting a Barbados threadsnake for the first time, one could swear it was an earthworm. They are actually comparable in size and diameter, with the largest specimen ever found measuring only 10.4 centimeters and are also blind.

They also typically weigh under one gram and are small enough to coil on an American quarter. The species was officially discovered slithering beneath a rock near a patch of Barbadian forest in 2008 by evolutionary biologist S. Blair Hedges, but little has been discovered about its ecology and With only about 10 percent of Barbados' forests still standing, the survival of this mysterious species is uncertain.

Pathetic condition of Balakrishna Rao Road near Ashoka Circle

Sir,

The Balakrishna Rao Road near Ashoka Circle (popularly known as Ballal Circle) leading to K.G. Koppal is in dilapidated condition and not been repaired for a very long time.

The road has a lot of potholes and pits not at all conducive for driving vehicles. Surprisingly, the road connecting Ballal Circle to under-bridge in Kantharaja Urs Road has been repaired though it is not as bad as this road.

Another interesting thing is that nowadays only those roads where VIPs and VVIPs commute will be repaired.

I can't understand what the concerned Corporator, MLA and Corporation authorities are doing. I think they have not experienced the agony of driving on this road till now unlike other motorists who commute normally along this road.

It is high time for them to wake up and get this road repaired at the earliest before any untoward incident happens.

Rahul Gandhi's Yatra marches via city

This morning, Rahul resumed his padayatra from Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle (Hardinge Circle) in the heart of the city at about 6.30 am where he was welcomed by KPCC President D.K. Shivakumar, Opposition Leader Siddharamaiah and a host of other Congress leaders.

The padayatra that began in the presence of 2,000-plus crowd passed through Albert Victor Road before reaching Ashoka Road via Nehru Circle, where he was garlanded by Muslim community leaders near the Meelad Park. He also visited the nearby Mosque and St. Philomena's Church.

As Rahul continued his march filled with a lot of enthusiasm and spirit, crowds swelled and as he arrived at Fountain Circle on Mysuru-Bengaluru road — coming under N.R. Constituency represented by Congress MLA Tanveer Sait — the Congress leader was showered with flower petals by the large crowd, which raised slogans hailing the yatra and Rahul Gandhi.

Rahul thereafter marched through Tipu Circle, LIC Circle (Millennium Circle), Bannimantap road and Old Tollgate, waving at the huge crowds along the entire route, before reaching Manipal Hospital Junction (Kempegowda Circle) on Mysuru-Bengaluru Road, where he was given a warm reception by thousands of party workers.

Rahul pays for breakfast

After a brief stop, he continued his march to reach Siddalingapura on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway, where he was welcomed by a host of folk troupes. At Siddalingapura, Rahul had breakfast at a roadside hotel named 'Kasturi Nivasa', where he had idli-vada, khara bhath and coffee. Hotel's supplier Lakshman, aged 20, was thrilled at Rahul's visit and said he was lucky to serve breakfast to a leader who is being projected by his party as the Prime Ministerial candidate. Hotel Manager Rakshith said he too was excited about the visit. Rahul himself paid the bill for the breakfast that he and his fellow marchers had.

Entering Mandya

From Siddalingapura, the yatra continued its journey and reached Kalasthawadi from where it entered Mandya district at 9 am. Rahul was seen-off at Mysuru-Mandya border by a host of Mysuru District Congress leaders. After crossing the district border, Rahul was received by waiting Mandya Congress leaders at Kalasthawadi post.

Apart from Siddharamaiah and D.K. Shivakumar, AICC General Secretary K.C. Venugopal, Party In-charge of Karnataka Randeep Surjewala, MLAs Tanveer Sait, Priyank Kharge, Rizwan Arshad, Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah and U.T. Khader, Party leaders B.K. Hariprasad, Vasu, K. Harish Gowda, Salim Ahmed, City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar and a host of other leaders were present.

Arterial roads clogged

Mysuru, Oct. 3- The entire route along which the Bharat Jodo Yatra passed through was dotted with flexes, banners, hoardings and other boards welcoming the Yatra and hailing Rahul Gandhi and Congress leaders.

Mysuru Traffic Police had banned vehicular movement on the entire stretch of the Yatra from 6 am to 10 am today. As a result, there were traffic jams and snarls on all roads in the heart and outskirts of the city, with vehicles moving at snail's pace on alternative roads that were suggested by the Police.

The direct fallout of the traffic restrictions on the Yatra route was seen on the arterial roads that were clogged with vehicles. Slow-moving traffic was the hallmark of many roads, especially in the Narasimharaja Constituency. The worst hit was the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway where hundreds of vehicles had a harrowing time. Occupants of the vehicles had no choice but to wait inside with air-conditioners turned on.

The Dasara tourist rush compounded the problem with vehicles lining up for kilometres on the roads that led to the city from Bengaluru, Bannur and Ring Road sides and the Police had a tough time in ensuring smooth flow of traffic. The jam eased after Rahul's entourage left the city. Police had made elaborate security arrangements for the Yatra, which passed off without any untoward incident.

Rahul Gandhi stays overnight in city

Mysuru, Oct.3 (SBD&DM)- Congress leader Rahul Gandhi arrived at the city outskirts from Nanjangud last evening. He was received by a host of Congress leaders and workers near Kalibeeramma temple at Kadakola on Mysuru-Nanjangud road, where he arrived by a car after visiting Srikanteshwara temple in Nanjangud. As Rahul set off his padayatra from Kadakola at about 4.45 pm, thousands of people, accompanied by folk troupes joined him and marched to Bandipalya, reaching there at about 6.45pm. At Bandipalya, rains too seemed to have greeted him as it began to pour heavily. Braving rains, Rahul addressed a meeting at Bandipalya, where he lashed out at the BJP, accusing it of corruption, divisiveness and maladministration. District Police led by SP R.Chetan provided security.

From Bandipalya, Rahul drove straight to Suttur Mutt at Chamundi Hill footsteps and sought the blessings of Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

Seeking Suttur Seer's blessings

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi called on Suttur Mutt Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji in city last evening and sought the Seer's blessings. Former CM Siddharamaiah, KPCC President D.K. Shivakumar, AICC General Secretary K.C.Venugopal and others accompanied him.

Rahul visits Masjid-e-Azam

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, who entered Mysuru city last evening and continued his 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' from Hardinge Circle this morning, visited Masjid-e-Azam on Ashoka Road along with former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and MLA Tanveer Sait before proceeding further. MLA Tanveer Sait is seen explaining the history of the Mosque in detail to Rahul Gandhi as Siddharamaiah and others look on.

Ambaari design flaw mars joy of riders:

Built-in obstruction for viewing illumination

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (SBD&BCT)- Though the Ambaari bus service operated by the Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) is hugely popular thanks to the splendour of illumination of the city roads, the basic design fault of the bus and lack of safety features have come to the fore now.

The bus ride along the illuminated roads is the most sought after attraction now and usually the top open deck is preferred by tourists. This section is overcrowded with all the passengers standing on top to see the best view of the illumination.

The front top part of the Ambaari is raised, God knows why, obstructing the view of the road in front. This elevated portion, like a wall, is obstructing the view of the people sitting on the top deck.

Views obstructed

As the view of the illuminated roads and circles is obstructed by the 'wall', they have to invariably stand to get a better view. This forces the other people sitting in the rear rows of the bus to stand to get better view and also to take photographs.

The result: All the people dangerously stand on the bus holding the side railings and some even climb on the seats. Many times, this is leading to arguments between passengers as everyone wants the best view.

As it is an open-roof bus, the passengers are exposed to threats from dangling live wires, tree branches and the likes. Even the side railing bars are not high enough to prevent accidents. Children and senior citizens are the most vulnerable here.

Problem will be solved if the obstruction wall, circled in red in the picture, is just removed. Happy riding to all.

City gears up for Ayudha Puja

tomorrow, Vijayadashami day after

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (MTY&DM)- With Ayudha Puja tomorrow (Oct. 4) followed by Vijayadashami on Oct. 5, culminating the ten-day Dasara festivities which is taking place in a grand manner after two years of COVID pandemic, the residents of the city are gearing up for the grand event by purchasing a variety of puja articles, fruits and vegetables, sweets, clothes and other articles required for the celebrations.

On the eve of Ayudha Puja, all the city markets and Malls are witnessing a huge rush of customers. There has been a high demand for lemon, sevanthige flower (Chrysanthemum), banana stalks, fruits, sweets, ash gourd, puffed rice (kadlepuri), puja articles, new clothes etc.

On account of the high demand, the price of flowers, fruits and vegetables have shot up considerably over the past couple of days. Sevanthige flower, which is in much demand among all the flowers, is selling at about Rs. 120-150 a metre, while ash gourd, which also is seeing a huge demand, is sold at Rs. 50-150 a piece, depending upon the size and weight, banana stalks at Rs. 50-100 a pair, lemons at Rs. 8-10 a piece and puffed rice at Rs. 100 for 4 litres.

The roads in the heart of the city are dotted with vendors selling fruits, vegetables, puja articles and other festival materials. The footpaths along J.K. Grounds, Dhanvantari Road, Devaraja Market, Mandi Market, Vani Vilas Market, Seshadri Iyer Road, Sayyaji Rao Road, Agrahara Circle, Teresian College Circle, Alanahalli Junction, Paduvarahalli, Ring Road Junctions etc. are flooded with vendors, most of whom are from villages around the city, who have occupied most of the space along the roads.

Overall, it can be said that the people of the city are bracing up to celebrate Dasara in keeping with past traditions and practices after a gap of two years.

The grand Dasara Jumboo Savari procession will take place on Oct. 5 (Wednesday), which attracts huge crowds, who line up all along the procession route from the Palace to Bannimantap Parade Grounds.

Sonia Gandhi's quick stop in Mysuru as visit to Kodagu Resort cancelled due to bad weather

Makes a stopover at Windflower Resorts and Spa at the foot of Chamundi Hill and proceeds to resort in Kabini

Sonia Gandhi

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (RK,Akshay& BCT)- Congress President Sonia Gandhi arrived at Mysore Airport in a special flight from New Delhi at around 12.45 pm today.

Mysuru City Police and Special Protection Group (SPG) had provided thick security blanket around her.

Sonia was received at the Airport by KPCC President D.K. Shivakumar, former CM Siddharamaiah, AICC General Secretary K.C. Venugopal, Party In-charge of Karnataka Randeep Surjewala, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, former Mayor Ayub Khan and others.

Earlier, as per the local Congress workers, Sonia Gandhi was supposed to visit Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Hill. However, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta clarified to Star of Mysore that the Chamundi Hill visit was not on Sonia's itinerary.

"It is not in the official list. She will be taken there only if the Congress leader insists. Otherwise, she will leave for Kodagu for a resort stay as planned earlier and according to her official tour programme," he said.

Sonia Gandhi was scheduled to take a chartered helicopter from Mysuru to Kodagu where she was to stay at a private resort near Madikeri for two days.

Her son Rahul Gandhi was to join her at the resort later this evening.

However, in hurried developments that took place after 1.30 pm today, Sonia Gandhi did not leave to Kodagu as the Chopper could not fly in bad weather. Instead she proceeded to Windflower Resort and Spa at the foot of Chamundi Hill.

Her convoy travelled by road from the Airport and she was accompanied by Shivakumar and Siddharamaiah.

Sonia rested at the resort for a some time waiting to see if the weather would improve to take the helicopter to Kodagu. Since the weather condition remained the same she decided to proceed to a resort in Kabini.

Rahul visits Chamundi Hill

Rahul Gandhi visited Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill this morning and offered special prayers. He was offered a golden thread-laced silk shalya by D.K. Shivakumar — who was also wearing one — to be worn on the shoulders before entering the sanctum sanctorum.

Rahul made a return journey to Mysuru from Kalasthawadi check-post where his 'Bharart Jodo Yatra' reached after it left Mysuru today. He travelled in a car to Chamundi Hill and returned to Kalasthawadi in the same car and proceeded towards Mandya.

Public entry was barred to Chamundi Hill for over one hour as the SPG had decided due to security reasons. Devotees were allowed inside temple only after Rahul's vehicle left the Hill.

Mangli breaks language barriers; crowds erupt with joy

Saree-draped elegant models wow 'Yuva Dasara' audience with catwalks, fashion show

Last evening's concert by playback singer Satyavathi Rathod, colloquially and popularly known as Mangli, at the Yuva Dasara was the perfect example of how Indian music is attracting listeners as well as singers by breaking the language barriers. Belting out many Kannada numbers, Mangli proved a thorough entertainer. Dressed in traditional white with matching ear-rings for the occasion, Mangli sang Kannada, Hindi and Telugu songs and the response from the audience rose to a crescendo.

Mangli was accompanied by singer Anirudh. Both danced on the stage with their renditions and the crowd too joined the ensemble. After Mangli's performance, playback singer Amit Trivedi sang Hindi numbers and received a rapturous applause from the crowd. This performance was followed by 'Star Night' that was marked by the performance of actor Harshika Poonacha, comedians Tabla Nani and Mithra, actors Radhika Narayan, Payal, Pruthvi Amber and Pratham. The songs were rendered by Inchara and Shashank. Models from Heartbeats Dance Academy presented catwalks and a fashion show where elegant saree-draped women stole the show.
